Office Furniture that Gives Zest to the Routine Work of the Day

Business Looking Pieces

Let the office furniture be right and work slips along easily with a seeming indifference to time—especially is this true of the roll top desk, the swinging chair and the general utility table where the telephone stands. It certainly pays to buy good furniture for the office work.

We have several sizes in Golden Oak Roll Top Desks, a dozen styles in Leather Seat and Swing Back Chairs—fourteen sizes in Utility Desks.

As we are specialists in office furniture we buy in larger quantities than the ordinary furniture house and hence are always able to quote considerably lower prices.

We are sole agents for Barre and vicinity for Macey Filing Appliances. Have you this system in your office? If you have not, hadn't you better get acquainted with it?

For dash and go and genuinely dramatic situations, "In the Nick of Time," a military picture to-night at Dreamland, is bound to appeal to all lovers of romance and spirited action. Not a moment does the interest lag. The splendid work of the Company K, 23d regiment, engineers' corps, of the New York National guard is highly interesting to watch. The hurried building of a pontoon bridge, its breaking and letting fall into the river below several men and horses, are some of the hair-raising stunts.

SEARCH FOR MAN AND MONEY.

West Burke Man Indicted to Believe Man Stole Money.

St. Johnsbury, Feb. 23.—Charles J. Smith, a miller of West Burke, was in town yesterday searching for a man giving the name of John Hara, who he said, stole $100 from him Monday and disappeared. Hara had been employed by Smith about three weeks. Monday morning he was given a letter containing a deposit for a St. Johnsbury bank. Hara opened the letter, took out the currency, and sent the checks to the bank. Mr. Smith has traced him to Haverhill, Mass., but has no further clue. He has very dark complexion, is smooth faced and about 22 years old. He claimed to have been a sailor.

MAY LOSE BOTH FEET.

They Were Frozen When Xavier LaFarr Was Stricken with a Fit.

Randolph, Feb. 23.—Xavier LaFarr, who had just completed a thirty days' term in the Chelsea jail, was taken to Swanton on Monday, where he was given into the hands of the overseer of the poor. On being released from the jail LaFarr started to walk to his place, as he had no money to pay his passage, and it is supposed that he was attacked by a fit, to which he was subject. Being unable to move, both his feet were frozen. The physician who was called to attend him thinks it very probable that both of LaFarr's feet will have to be amputated.

The large farm house of Mrs. and Mrs. W. M. Grandy of South Bridgeport was burned to the ground Sunday. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Grandy and their nephew, Truman Grandy, with his wife and children. It is supposed that the fire caught from a stove in the dining room. The fire broke out early in the morning and neighbors summoned by telephone succeeded in getting out much of the furniture, although they could do nothing toward saving the house. A small shop at the rear was also destroyed, but the good work of the neighbors saved all the other out buildings from destruction. The house was one of the oldest and best built in town and the loss is about $7,000. The loss on the house was fully covered by insurance.

The mystery surrounding the man who, when arrested in Springfield, Mass., a few weeks ago, on a charge of forgery of a post office order, gave his name as George Webb, and his home as Plattsburgh, is still unsolved, although every possible effort has been made to discover his real name and place of residence. Last October this man met at Bradford, Vt., a young lady school teacher from Springfield, who was at Bradford for her health. He then gave his name as Walter Adams and said he was an agent for agricultural implements. He made love to the young lady and they were soon married. His wife knew practically nothing of his past life and his claiming the name of Webb after his arrest was a surprise to her. His photograph has been sent to Springfield in hope that someone might identify him but no one has yet been found who knows the man although several say they have seen him. Adams was convicted of the attempted forgery and is now in the federal prison at Atlanta, serving a three years' sentence for his crime.

WHAT'S NEW

Pretty nearly everything in our store is new. We did not sell goods at cost or less through the month of January wholly to get the money. We wanted new goods in their place and that is just what we have got today and more kinds are on the way, in fact will be opened up before this reaches you. We are after your Spring business and expect that the right kinds priced as we price them will make us busy from now on.

New Things

The following are goods that will be in demand and these kinds we know are right.

Ladies' Neckwear in the way of collars in both Swiss and Venise effects are very good just now and the price of 25c will do about the same for you as 60c did last season.

Our special Ribbon at 19c and 25c is fully up to last season's grade and as the Ribbons were better than anything shown last season the sale is sure to double this season. They are great values.

The new shapes in R & G Corsets are just now attracting those that like a new thing, especially when it is the very latest, a little ahead of other kinds.

New Things

Our line of New Embroideries is not the same old make. Let us tell you the difference. Let us show you where they show up better when washed. Not any finer, not any more expensive, but made so that they are a hundred percent better looking.

These Embroideries are imported by Musser Brothers of New York City to our special order and come in single patterns or as sets. All over Bands and Edges to match. Price no more than jobber's goods.

In these Embroideries are Housings for children and full width for ladies' skirts or suits, also narrow flouncings for white petticoats that are beautiful at 29c per yard.

Two lots of same quality narrower at 10c and 15c, a special sale.

New Things

New things in our line of Muslin Underwear. By the way, this month ends our discount sale on Muslin Underwear.

New Gingham, and a beautiful cloth at 25c called Gerard Poplin in all of the new shades, good enough so that last week's arrival is broken in some colors.

New lot of Ladies' Sweaters at old prices. Yarns have advanced so that Sweaters are costing more, but our prices for the present are the same. This means that we sell you a $3.00 Sweater for $2.50.

Ladies' Suits in advanced Spring styles and the tailoring is far in advance of any that we have ever received.

If any of our Winter Suits appeal to you as money savers the price is but half and they are worth looking for. This week will close them out.

Our line of Regal Shoes is coming to please us, as all will be here this week and let us say that a pair of Regal Shoes for Easter will be a mighty smart thing.

A Sailor's Compliment.

A Boston publisher said of Mrs. Aquilith, whose name has been so much discussed in connection with "The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue":

"As Miss Margot Tennant she electrified London with her beauty, her wit and her high spirits. Mr. Gladstone admired her, and the novelist Benson owed his success to the portrait, wretchedly weak and thin as it was, that he drew of her in 'Dodo'."

"Gladstone, Tennant and other distinguished persons made a cruise to Norway one summer in Sir Daniel Currie's yacht. Miss Margot Tennant was among the party, and her gaiety and beauty enchanted all on board, from Tennant and Gladstone down to the cabin boy."

"Mr. Gladstone and Miss Tennant, promenade the deck one morning, paused and talked awhile with a sailor."

"Are you married? Miss Tennant asked him."

"The sailor touched his cap and answered:—

"Yes, ma'am; I'm sorry to say I am."

ROUTED THE CLIQUE.

"One of the performers at the Teatro Lirico, at Milan, had an exciting experience on the occasion of his first appearance this year. The opera 'Faust' was being performed," says the Rome Gazette, "and, despite the fact that the baritone, Almeto, sang and played well, he was loudly hissed and ridiculed. The curtain went down on the first act, and Almeto, in the costume of the king of Castile, stepped before the curtain close to the footlights and addressed the audience in a voice tremulous with rage. He said that he was the victim of a heartless clique—that he had been hissed and his conscientious efforts had been groaned at because he had refused to pay the clique. The audience received his remarks with loud applause. The clique melted away, and the hero stager from that time until the end of the performance received much applause."

TO START A TIGHT SCREW.

Lots of folks have tried to remove a stubborn screw from a piece of wood, a screw that won't budge at all, and have in the end given it up as a bad job. Well, if such a thing occurs again don't give it up, don't lose your temper or exert yourself, but try this recipe for removing the screw: Heat a poker red hot and then hold it against the screw head for a little while; wait a few minutes for the screw to cool down, when it will be found that the screw can be removed quite easily with the same screwdriver that just previously would not perform the work. The explanation is quite simple. The red hot poker heats the screw, and the screw expands and makes the hole it is in just a wee bit bigger. The screw then cools down and resumes its original size, leaving the hole in the wood a size too large—and there you are.—New York Sun.
